gone, well above this hell of a school year is finally over but I know we're both gonna be sad to go even though we say we hate this place. But do we really? Remember the talks we've had & they were fun. All about sex. I wish you'd quit talking about it and do it. A lot.
Gary's very lucky and so are you give him a reward. I'm gonna cry when we leave I'm gonna miss you so much. You're one of my main girls. I love you very much.
You've been so kind to me. You're good & you always will be you have an open ear & kind heart as you always have. In the past year I can say we've had a lot of good times like the 3 and 4 a.m. in the morning like remember waking Gloria Cause up at 3:30 and telling her it was 7:30. and it was a dark morning. I never laughed so hard. I hope you won't forget me this summer cause you'll always be in my mind. I love you

DEDICATION

Sister Marjorie Paul

A conscientious person who shares much of her life with and for the people of St. Anne's, Sister Marjorie Paul, we appreciate and thank you for all your concern. You have been a source of happiness to all of us, in many personal ways. When we have needed someone to either listen to us or talk to us truthfully, we turn to you. The whole community runs a little smoother because you are always ready to help any time. The willingness to care and the energy and compassion to work and laugh with others adds up to a unique individual. St. Anne's spirit comes from it's people and you are a very important part of it. We, the class of 1973, thank you for creating part of the St. Anne's hopeful light. We will never forget you, as you will never forget us. Thank you for being what you have been to us . . .

History of St. Anne's

The Order of St. Anne's began in 1910 at St. John's House. Miss Etheldred Barry owned the house. She offered her house to Father Powell as an orphanage for neglected children.

When these children were of school age, they attended the Locke School (which is not far from St. Anne's.)

In 1928, there were enough Sisters here to start a convent and a school. It began in the lower grades for the few children that were here.

With a lot of determination, hard work and labor the Sister established St. Anne's School.

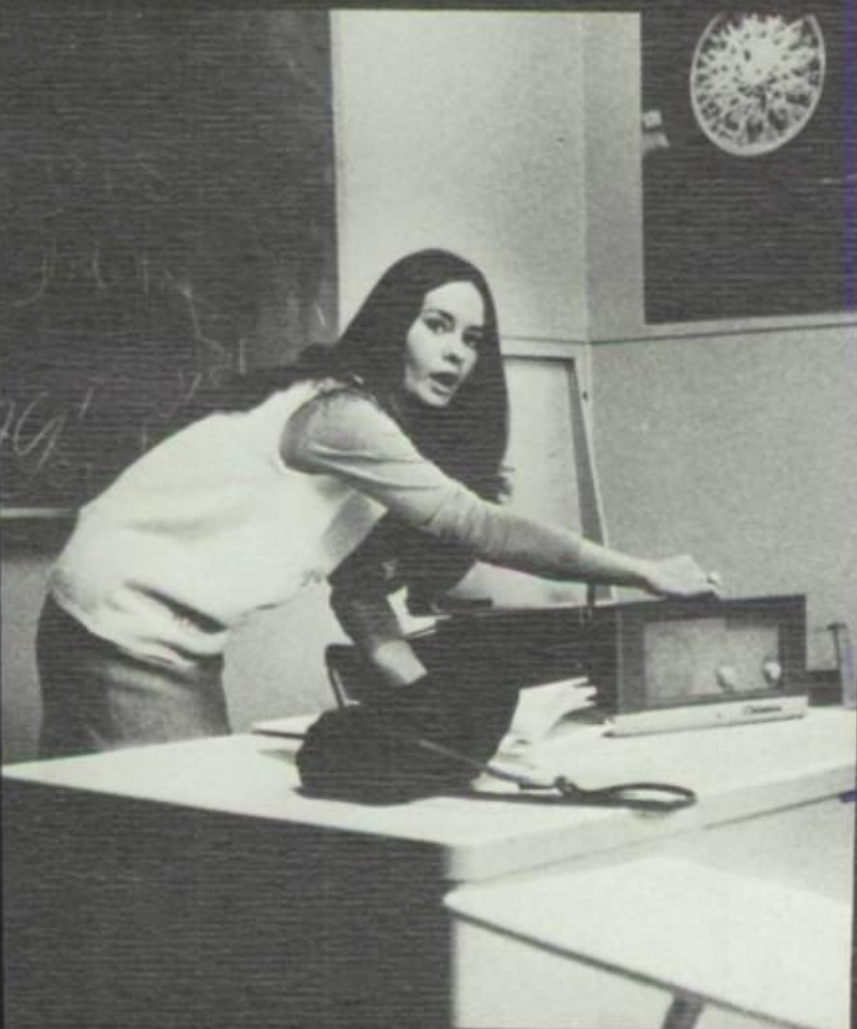

As time passed, more Sisters entered the Order.

In the center of the chapel floor, there is a bronze plate with the name of the first novice to die in the Order, Sister Bridget.

The convent in Arlington Heights was one of the many Orders of St. Anne's. There are convents in Boston; N. Y.; Memphis; Tenn.; Chicago; Oneida, Wisconsin; Denver; Colorado; Virgin Islands; New Zealand; Philippine Islands; Wuchang; China; and England.

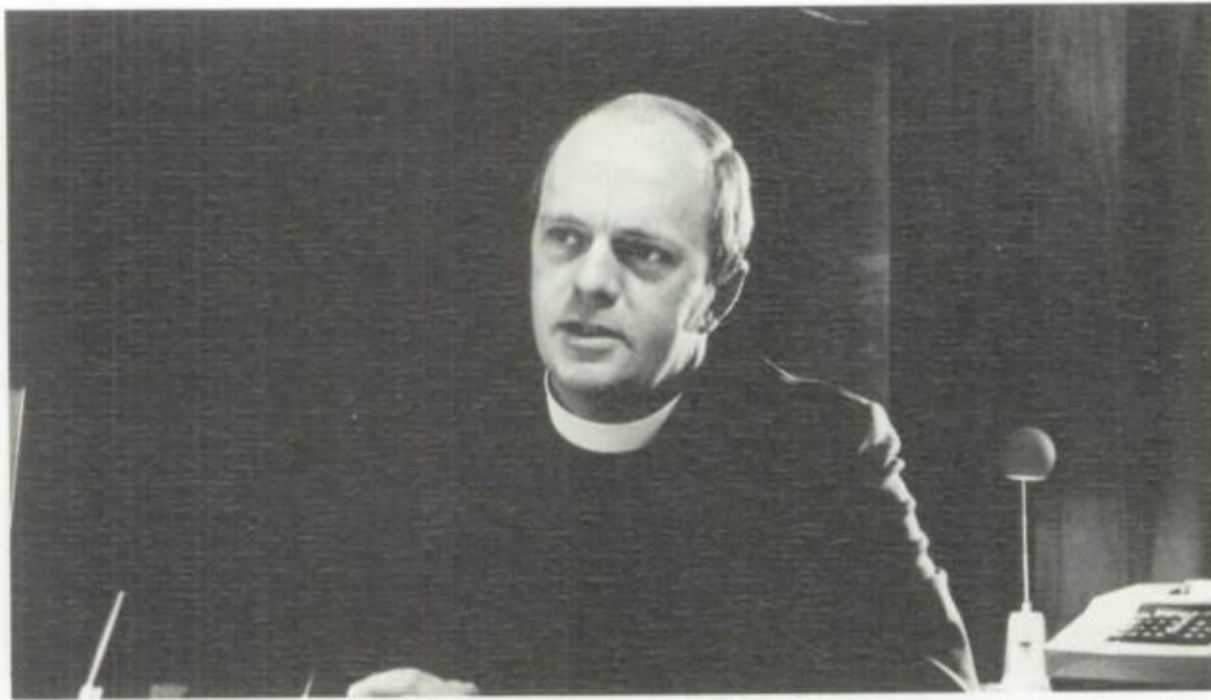

We, who are leaving are going with the feeling of fulfillment. Our hope is that St. Anne's will continue to reach out and help children as they have done in the past.

"My bag's bigger than your bag."

"I'm smiling..."

"What's behind this bush?"

"HEADS!!!"

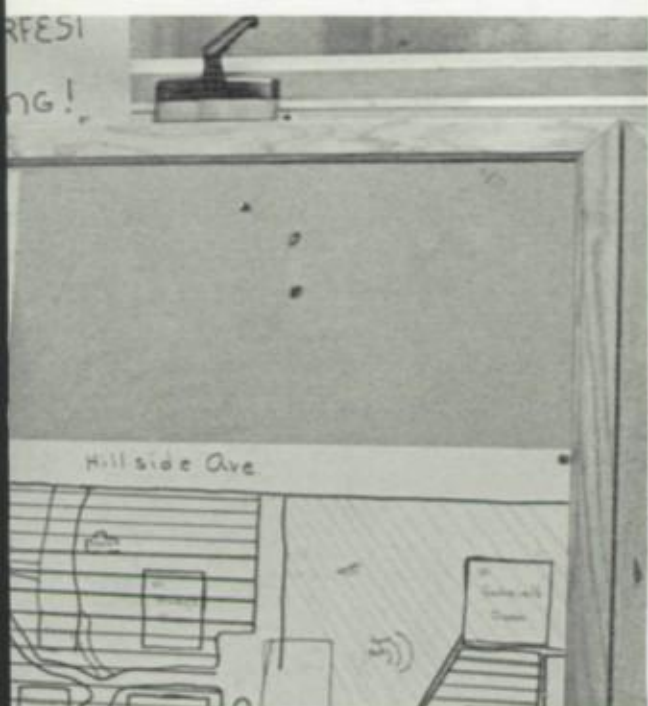

On one cool leafy day, the school enthusiastically participated in Oktoberfest. The student council sponsored the day and planned its activities. Amongst these were fun filled antics including a massive leaf raking contest; won by ST. Joe's. This was followed by a student-faculty volleyball game, which the students lost.

When dusk crept upon us we retreated into the gym for a Halloween dinner and party.

Tired and weary after raking over 600 bags of leaves, happily we trudged back to our dorms.

RING

The ring tea is a ceremony in which the Juniors receive their school rings from a senior. The date is kept a secret from the juniors until they receive their invitations.

In the ceremony the seniors say, "Accept this ring as a token of Love and Loyalty to St. Anne's School." Dinner follows the ceremony.

Let me tell what I'm going to do when I get my RING...

TEA

Annette walks away proudly after receiving her ring...

Accept this ring as a token ...

A Tribute to the Student Council

Through the years, St. Anne's Student Council has been one of the most active organizations on campus. This year is far from an exception.

The Student Council holds regular meetings for officers and for its members. When an issue comes up that needs a majority vote from the school body, the Council calls an assembly to discuss the issues at hand with the student body. The Council and the students then call themselves the "School Council."

The Council has done a lot of things this year. They have organized the Student-Faculty Auction, Father-Daughter Dinner Dance, October Fest, Santa's Workshop, revised the dress code (for dinner and for school) and assisted in making Study Hall a comfortable place for all.

All their efforts were to make the relationship better between individuals on the campus. Of course, without the guidance of Mrs. Kershaw and Mr. Heaney it probably wouldn't have been accomplished. So we give you our sincere thanks.

We regret that there aren't any pictures of these working, responsible people.

Representatives from each class are: Joni Decelles and Andrea Washington-12th, Beryl Davis and Denise Montiero-11th, Sugie Emmett and Joan Crimmins-10th, Nora Bernazzami and Denise Edwards-9th.

We thank you all. . .

The Saint Anne's chapter of the National Honor Society is composed of students who possess qualities of leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

We have other societies at St. Anne's which are Jr. National Society, National Business Honor Society, and the St. Anne's Honor society which was composed for those girls that had a B+ average and also have the qualities for a Honor Society. This of which is for the General curriculum girls that have shown outstanding ability in living at St. Anne's School.

Election Day

In November the Problem of Democracy Class put-on an assembly pertaining to the Election of 73. There were explicit details given on the U.S.A.'s present standings on civil rights, Employment, the War, ecology etc... After the assembly there was a mock Election. McGovern won...

Making his speech, George McGovern.

A skit on Ecology and all its glories.

Representative

Dawna Montiero

Student

At St. Anne's it is traditional to elect a Representative student. The students elect a fellow student whom they feel is loyal, responsible, has leadership qualities, is dependable and because she has concern for the school is willing to give of herself fully.

This year these qualities were acknowledged in Dawna. Dawna, who has been at St. Anne's for six years has proven worthy of this title. Her school spirit has increased each year. She has volunteered and has been elected to numerous offices, and duties, which are only held by the responsible and trustworthy such as Dawna.

She was elected president of the Junior Class and during her sophomore year director of the spring play. Dawna has also been elected Student Council Vice-President by her fellow students.

Dawna truly represents the ideal St. Anne's student. We wish her luck with all her ultimate concerns.

May Queen

Joni DeCelles

And Court

St. Anne's is a school composed of many beautiful traditions, the most beautiful being May Day. It is held on Mother's Day, the Feast of Our Lady. For this special day the students elect a girl who has demonstrated mother-like characteristics. Among these are kindness, consideration for others, understanding and the ability to give of herself unselfishly.

This year our May Queen is Joni DeCelles. She possesses these characteristics, therefore she has been rewarded with this honorable position.

The celebration of May Day is held in the spring. Joni, our Queen is full of beauty and the aliveness which spring time brings. Peaceful with a compassionate smile that radiates with love, Joni is an ideal queen. We are glad we know someone as sincere as Joni, for our friend and May Queen.

Well Qoanie what can I say. We've gone through so many things together, and I hope we can go through a lot more together, because it was always fun. There are so so many things we've done together that I'll never forget. Remember the night we smoked all that dust? Well this summer we'll have many more nights like that, I hope. The only thing I'm scared of this summer is if me and you get together with lots of speed, because I'll definitely have lots of it this summer, and you know we'll never stop doing it. Well Qoanie you're a super special person to me and I'll never ever forget you. How could I. ha ha. You have helped me a lot, and always been around whenever I needed someone to talk to. And I hope you'll always be around. Well this summer we'll definitely have some more good times, like going to MIT every night speeding our brains out. Ha ha. Well Qoanie we really have been super angels this year, compared to last year. And I think I like it better like this. ha ha. But maybe next year we'll have to show them that we still have the good old spirit in us. Well Qoanie I could go on for pages, but. I hope I'll never have to say good-bye to you Qoanie. Take care, and we'll have lots of fun this summer.
